Eligibility FAQs

Elsevier and CONCERT Consortium have established an agreement to support authors in Taiwan who wish to publish open access (OA).

Under the terms of this agreement, eligible corresponding authors will receive a discount on the article publishing charge (APC) when they publish OA in selected hybrid Elsevier journals.

The discount applies to articles with an original acceptance date between 1 January 2026 and 31 December 2028.

How does the process work?

- Step 1: After verifying you are affiliated with a participating institute, select a journal that is eligible under the terms of this agreement. Follow the guidance in the Journals section below to find out which titles are included.
- Step 2: Submit your article via your chosen journal's submission system. When asked to enter your email address, please ensure you use your institutional email address – this is how we validate your eligibility for this agreement.
- Step 3: The submission system presents you with personalized publishing options, including any relevant agreements or offers. If you are submitting to a hybrid journal, you will be asked to choose whether you wish to publish open access – don't worry if you are unsure at this stage, because we will ask you this question again post-acceptance.
- Step 4: If the journal accepts your article, you receive an email containing a clickable link to the “post acceptance author journey”. During this journey, we ask you to review and confirm your affiliation and

During this journey, we ask you to review and confirm your affiliation and funder details. This information is used by the system to determine which personalized publishing options to show you, including the option to publish under this agreement.
- Step 5: Confirm your publishing choices and complete the post acceptance journey.
- Step 6: Your institution validates your eligibility for the agreement. Please note: The final decision on your eligibility lies with the person at your institution responsible for managing and administering this agreement. If you have any concerns that your administrator may reject your request for APC support, please check with them before confirming that you want to publish open access.
- Step 7: You and your co-authors receive an email to confirm that the APC discount will be applied.
